

Introduction to the Political Economy, Code of Lesson: 300014

Contents: Basic characteristics of modern economies: stringency of factors of production, division of labour and specialization of production, organization of production and technical progress. Economic systems, market economy and mixed economy. Schools of Economic Thought. Formation of prices to the market of perfect competition to the neoclassical economy. The Balance of Economy according to the Keynesian Economy.