

1. Economic and Social Development in the Balkans and the role of Greece.
Code of Lesson: 300177

- a. Contexts: The aim of the lesson is to show the importance of Balkan Periphery in the framework of new Europe. The powers of economic integration of European Union shape the new geographical landscape in the framework of this the powers of production will be moved, redefining to the important degree the dynamic of European capital. In this context, we search for the formation of Balkan periphery as a united economic space and the role of Greece is attempted to be shown off from the 1990 until today.