

Special Issues of Violent Criminality: Case Studies (195) / V. Vlachou

This course which is seminar includes the study and the analysis of specific cases of violent crimes in the light of modern developments and social necessities. The axes of case study, combined with theoretical approaches and research data on violent crime, highlight the necessity of an interdisciplinary approach and the coupling of theory and research.