

Economy and Society in 20th century - Greece I

Subject Code Number: 300632

Teaching Staff: Professor Theodoros Sakellariopoulos-Professor Manolis Choumerianos

CONTENT

The aim of the course is to transmit the students some basic knowledge concerning the Economy and Society in Greece after World War II. The basic theoretical and methodological approach adopted arises from the hegemonic role of the state in relation to economy. Special objects of the course are: The postwar economic growth model, the basic structural changes in economy and employment, the position of the agricultural sector, the role of the state in economy, the basic features of industry, the bank system and the maritime sector. Special mention shall be given to the external factors affected the economy and society of Greece in that period. Finally, issues related to the social and institutional factors and their relation to the Economy shall be examined.

Basic Bibliography:

Sakellariopoulos Th. (ed.), Economy and politics in contemporary Greece, Athens, Dionikos, 2011(in Greek).

Sakellariopoulos Th., Texts on economic and social history, Athens, Dionikos, 2003 (in Greek).