

[773] CRIMINOLOGICAL THEORY II: CONTROL THEORIES AND THEORIES OF RISK, 4th Semester, ECTS 5

The course (Spring Semester) refers to:

- Sociological approaches and research on danger and risk and their relation with criminological perspectives of confronting dangers and risks referring to crime and delinquency.
- The new social control: development, governance by distance.
- Active, reactive and proactive crime control. The management of security: Technical and technological prevention.
- The role of Law, and in particular of Criminal Law, in social and crime control (Habermas, Luhmann et al).
- Informal crime control (community crime prevention strategies, crime-stopping groups, etc).

Handbooks:

- Effi Lambropoulou, Crime and Social Control. Papasissis, Athens 1994.
- Effi Lambropoulou, Internal Security and Control Society. Kritiki, Athens 2001.
- Lecture notes (Pandemos, Panteion University library).